NEWS AND NOTES

"A Summer School in Archives will be held at the University of Sydney in the week, Monday 4th March, 1957, to Friday 8th March inclusive. A number of exhibitions of records material, publications, illustrations etc. will be held and there will be lectures and discussions on various aspects of archives work -- the special problems presented by records of different types, methods of storage, classification and repair etc.. The theme of the School will be that of "Archives and Society in the 1950's". The School is being held with the co-operation of the University of Sydney and further details and notifications will be circulated in the next few weeks. It is hoped that with the accent on discussion, Australian Archivists and Historians will have an opportunity to meet and exchange views on the problems which face them in this field in Australia today".
