

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Mr Denis Rowe is employed by the Newcastle Public Library in the organization of local government, business and trade union archives. A member of the N.S.W. Bar, he has qualified as an archivist, and is a Vice-President of the Newcastle and Hunter District Historical Society.

Mr H. J. Gibbney is a Research Officer in the Australian Dictionary of Biography, Institute of Advanced Studies, Australian National University. He was formerly a member of the Commonwealth Archives Office staff, his career as an archivist having begun whilst the Commonwealth Archives was a Division of the National Library.

Mr K. Polden has been, for nine years, Archivist of the Reserve Bank of Australia. He is now taking on new duties in the Bank, but pending the appointment of a new Archivist, maintains responsibility for the Bank's Archives in a supervisory role.

Mr N. Hicks was, up till the end of 1970, a Research Scholar in the Department of Demography, Research School of Social Sciences, Australian National University. He has now taken up a position in Adelaide, as officer assisting the Committee of Enquiry into Health Services in South Australia.

The longer notes are signed, and their writers need no further introduction. News notes have been prepared by Mr D. J. Cross, Senior Archivist of the Archives Authority of N.S.W., Mr M Saclier, Principal Archivist of the Archives Office of Tasmania, Mr R. C. Sharman, Archives Officer of the Australian National University, Mr F. Strahan, Archivist of the University of Melbourne, Miss M. Littlejohn, Archivist of the University of Tasmania, and Miss P. Quinn, Archivist of the Bank of New South Wales.