

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS ISSUE

John Burke is an Archivist with the Archives Office of New South Wales.

E. W. Russell is a Research Officer with the Australian Public Service Board. The views expressed in Mr Russell's article are the personal views of the author only.

Christopher Hurley is Senior Projects Officer with the Australian Archives in Canberra.

Douglas Bishop is Officer-in-Charge of Central Files at Monash University.

James Urry, B.Sc.(Hons.)(Lond.) is an Anthropologist, graduate of the University of Oxford, and Bibliographer to the Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies, Canberra.

Michael Saclier is Archives Officer, Australian National University Archives of Business and Labour, and is President of the Australian Society of Archivists.

Timothy Walsh is in charge of the Methods and Equipment Section of the Repository and Management Branch of the Australian Archives in Canberra.

Neville Corbett is Regional Conservator at the Villawood Repository of the Australian Archives and is Instructor in Conservation at the School of Librarianship at the University of New South Wales.

T. F. Nielsen is Conservator at the State Library of New South Wales.

Ian Maclean is Principal Archivist with the Archives Authority of New South Wales, and is Vice-President of the Australian Society of Archivists.