

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS ISSUE

Peter Scott is Senior Archivist for New South Wales in the Australian Archives.

Clive Smith is an archivist in the A.C.T. Regional Operations Branch of the Australian Archives.

Gail Finlay is Senior Archivist (Survey, Registration and Description) with the Australian Archives in Canberra.

R. H. Griffin is Archivist at the Bank of New Zealand Archives, Wellington.

Carol Russell lectures at a College of Advanced Education. Her academic interests include medical and organisational sociology. Among her qualifications she lists the London Certificate of Archive repair. She is an unpaid conservator and craft bookbinder.

T. F. Nielsen is Conservator at the State Library of New South Wales.

Judith Cordingley was formerly an archivist at the Public Record Office, Victoria, and worked extensively on lands and shipping records. Subsequently she worked on records at the Queen Victoria Hospital and is now a consulting archivist at the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology.

Douglas Bishop conducts the Central Registry at Monash University. He was Chairman of the Victorian Branch of the Australian Society of Archivists 1977-78.