

Barbara Reed has a Diploma in Archives Administration. Formerly employed at Australian Archives, Canberra Region, she is at present Assistant to the Records Management Officer, Registrar's Division, University of Melbourne.

Alan Roberts graduated BA and PhD from the University of Sydney and Diploma of Archives Administration from the University of NSW. He tutored in History at the Macquarie University 1976-1980, and is currently Field and Research Officer with the Royal Australian Historical Society, giving advice on questions of historical research and writing to local historical societies. He is secretary of the Oral History Association of Australia.

Anne-Marie Schwirtlich is employed at Australian Archives, NSW Region, and is studying part-time for the Diploma of Archives Administration. She is on the Promotions and Information Committee of the Australian Society of Archivists Inc. and is also working on the Directory of Archives.

Ian Sutherland is Regional Director, N.T. Regional Office, Australian Archives, Darwin.

Maurice Weightman was previously in the army before doing the Materials Conservation course at the Canberra College of Advanced Education.

Apology

The Acting Editor of the May 1982 issue of Archives and Manuscripts apologises for the misspelling of Ms Glenda Acland's name, and the changing of the title of her article, which should have read: 'The Establishment of an Archive: University of Queensland.' The fault was entirely his and not that of the printer.

Correction

Volume 10 number 1, May 1982, page 52

Footnote 4 should read:

Queensland, Libraries Act, 1943-79, S.21 (4)(1)

Footnote 14 should read:

Queensland, Libraries Act, 1943-79, S.21 (5)