

About the Contributors

Helen Creagh BA, Cert. Ed., formerly a teacher, was appointed to the staff of the Australian Archives (ACT) in 1976. She joined the Australian War Memorial early in 1981, and in December 1982 was appointed Curator Official Records (post-1950). She is responsible for archival operations at the annex to the War Memorial in Mitchell, ACT.

Janet Howse has a BA with honours in history and a Diploma in Archives Administration. After initial archives experience in Canberra, she became assistant to the NSW State member for Monaro, and was an alderman with the Queanbeyan City Council for several years. She became archivist for the Council of the City of Sydney in February 1981.

Guna Kinne has a BA with honours in German. She has worked for the past eight years at Australian Archives, Victorian Branch and for the term of 1979-81 served as Treasurer of the Australian Society of Archivists.

Peter Moore has worked as an archivist at the Australian National University Archives of Business and Labour since 1981. He holds the LL.B. degree from Adelaide University and the Diploma in Archives Administration from the University of New South Wales.

Pennie Pemberton has been Deputy Archives Officer at the Australian National University Archives of Business and Labour since 1976. After completing her BA (Hons) at ANU she worked in England as Group Archivist and Records Manager for Pilkington Brothers Ltd while studying for an MA part-time at the University of Liverpool.

Andrew Reeves is employed as an Archivist at the University of Melbourne Archives. He holds a BA (Hons) degree from the University of Melbourne, and a MA in history from La Trobe University. At present he is writing the history of the Melbourne Trades Hall Council.

Maggie Shapley holds a MA (Hons) degree in Medieval English from the University of Sydney and a Diploma in Archives Administration from the University of New South Wales. Her present position is in Special Records in the ACT Regional Office of the Australian Archives.

Robert Sharman BA, FLAA, is State Librarian of Western Australia. Most of his early career was spent in the archives field and he was editor of Archives and Manuscripts for fifteen years. He is an Honorary Life

Member of the Australian Society of Archivists.

David Sissons holds a MA from the University of Melbourne. He is a Fellow in the Department of International Relations in the Research School of Pacific Studies.

Colin Smith was one of the first students to take the Diploma in Archives Administration at the University of New South Wales. He worked in 1974 on Trade Union records at the Australian National University Archives of Business and Labour, and then from 1975 to 1978 at the Australian Archives in Canberra. Since 1978 he has been Archivist of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization.

Andrew Wilson has been employed at the Archives Office of New South Wales since 1977. He was appointed to his present position of Assistant Senior Archivist — Parliament House in May 1981.