

About the Contributors

Cathie Clement (B.A.Hons.) is a postgraduate student at Murdoch University. For the last six years she has been using the archive and manuscript holdings of the J.S. Batty Library of West Australian History to research the history of European colonisation in the Kimberley region of Western Australia.

Anne Cooke (B.A. La Trobe) is the inaugural archivist of Barker College, Hornsby. She is a part-time student in the Archives Administration course at UNSW and hopes to graduate in 1987. Her background is in theatre and museums.

Michael Organ (B.Sc.Hons. W'gong) is a recent graduate of the UNSW Archives Administration course. He has a science background, majoring in Geology, and is currently Assistant Archivist in the UNSW Archives.

Colleen Pritchard (B.A. UNSW, Dip. Arch. Admin. UNSW) has been an Archivist with the Archives of Business and Labour at the ANU since 1982, and was previously with the South Australian Archives. She was Convenor of the Business Archives Special Interest Group for the 1985/87 term.

Robert Thornton is responsible for the provision of all reference services at the Adelaide City Council Archives. He was previously on the staff of the Public Record Office of South Australia.