

About the Contributors

Dr Marian Aveling teaches Australian History and Women's Studies at Monash University, Melbourne. She was a joint editor of the Bicentennial history Australians 1838 and earlier this year published Stepping out of history: documents of women at work in Australia.

Baiba Berzins is currently Executive Officer, Australian Council of Archives. She has worked previously as an archivist and university lecturer in positions including Principal Archivist of the Northern Territory and the Mitchell Librarian, State Library of New South Wales.

His Excellency, the Honourable Bill Hayden, AC, has been Australia's Governor-General since February 1989. He previously held senior Ministerial positions in the Whitlam and Hawke Labor Governments.

Nancy Lutton, MBE, has been, since 1989, Chief Archivist at the National Archives and Public Records Service of Papua New Guinea. She worked previously in Papua New Guinea from 1966 to 1980. She was Editor of Archives and Manuscripts from 1982 to 1987.

Sue McKemmish is Senior Lecturer in the Master of Arts (Archives and Records) program at Monash University's Graduate Department of Librarianship, Archives and Records. Her former appointments were with the Public Record Office, Victoria and the Victorian Regional Office of Australian Archives.

George Nichols is the Director-General of Australian Archives. He was formerly a First Assistant Secretary with the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet, where he worked from 1975 apart from an industry exchange in 1979 and an overseas exchange with the Privy Council Office, Ottawa, in 1987-88.

Michael Saclier has been the Archives Officer, Archives of Business and Labour at the Australian National University since 1972, and was previously the State Archivist in Tasmania. He is also an Honorary Member of, and was foundation President of, the Australian Society of Archivists.

Glen Schwinghamer is an Assistant Manuscript Librarian in the Manuscript Section of the National Library of Australia, which he joined in 1985 after work in the Library's selection, acquisition and cataloguing areas. He is Editor of the Guide to collections of manuscripts relating to Australia and since 1989 has managed the Australian historic records register database.